From Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, October 20.—Gov. Wells has issued a proclamation calling for proposals for the reconstruction of the levees at the expense of the State.

A petition has been received by Gov. Wells from the citizens of North Louisiana, asking him to take steps to prevent the threatened negro insurrection in that section.

Of the two negro regiments raised by Gen. Banks, one was to be disbanded yesterday, and the other will be this week. Some of the papers say that these regiments will retain their organizations, notwithstanding their disbanding.

Affairs in Mississippi.

JACKSON, October 20, 1865.—J. L. Alcorn was to-day elected Senator for the long term, commencing March 4th, 1865, on the fifth ballot, by a majority of nineteen. Mr. Alcorn is the present representative from the Coahoma District.

The following are the officers of the State and some of the Congressmen elected: Governor—Benjamin G. Humphreys. Secretary of State—H. J. Harris. Auditor—T. T. Swan. Treasurer—General John H. Echols. Attorney-General—C. E. Hooker. Congressmen elect, A. E. Reynolds, R. A. Pinson, James T. Harrison, A. M. West, E. G. Peyton.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, October 23.—Mexican dates to the 15th inst. have been received in this city.

Maximilian has issued a proclamation, announcing the departure of Juarez from Mexican territory, saying that his departure was occasioned by his (Juarez) having met with so much valor in the imperial forces, the people generally having succumbed to national authority. Even brigandage is said to have disappeared with the departure of their leader from Mexican soil.

Maximilian adds, however, that disorder is still kept up, and to go out would be inflexible in punishment. [So reads the despatch, and if our readers can divine its meaning, they are heartily welcome to all the intelligence it contains, as we worried our brain with it, and finally concluded to make the matter short by giving it as near verbatim as could be done.—Eds. COURIER.] The Emperor has issued a decree containing vigorous measures to be enforced against all persons found in arms against his Government.

General Es Poriel has gone to Lower California to endeavor to bring that portion of Mexican territory under the sway of the Emperor.

Washington Affairs.

WASHINGTON, October 20.—The mysterious State prisoner arrested some months ago, in Memphis, or some point in the South-west, and transported here under the suspicion of being John H. Surrat, turns out to be a J. W. Fuller, who was formerly a druggist on the corner of College and Cedar streets, Nashville, Tenn. He is represented to be a semi-spy, a semi-scout and secret service employee of the Government. It is asserted that he has letters from at least seven major-generals, attesting his loyalty. This, at least, is his statement. It is true that he is yet in prison, and has thus far had no examination or trial, although imprisoned over ninety days.

The sporting fraternity of Washington, now the times of conspiracies and disloyal practices are past, are coming in for more than their share of attention from the War Department police. Hardly a day passes but some one of the "tiger" keepers is summoned to Gen. Baker's headquarters, and forced to disgorge the greater portion of his previous night's fleece. There is a decided objection to these amusements, and a firm determination to preserve the morals of this community this winter.

Six thousand acres of land in Arkansas, belonging to the ex-rebel General Gideon J. Pillow, which has been held as abandoned property for some time past by the Government, has been restored to its original owner.

The situation at the White House, on Thursday, was a quiet one. The President received but few visitors. The only person of any prominence who obtained an interview was Gen. Butler.

Thirty additional post offices were re-opened in Alabama to-day. The letting of mail contracts for the whole South will commence on the first day of November. The Provost Marshal at New Orleans is rather exceeding his duties in ordering the striking from the register roll the names of parties whom he deems to have been disloyal "antecedent to the amnesty proclamation of the President." This is a matter that does not concern him at all, and, further, it is an interference in the law of the State that will not be tolerated. I am not aware that the authorities have yet appealed to the President upon the subject. There is to be, in the future, no more military interference in the organization of State Government, and the "provo's" and all others may as well understand this at once.

The most important action of the Mississippi Legislature, which met yesterday, will be the ratification of the amendment of the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery, and the passage of an Act, or Acts, defining the status of the negro, and providing for his future condition. Of the ratification of the slavery amendment there is no doubt, and this done, it will require the votes of but two more States to make the great work complete and binding for all time.

A Charleston letter is emphatic in the expression that a union of the Methodist Episcopal Church South with that of the North is utterly impossible. "Deeper, far deeper," says this letter, "is the secession feeling in the Church than ever it was in the State; nor is there the remotest probability that this feeling can ever be eradicated."

In this connection, is it not a pertinent question to ask whether or not the Convention in Philadelphia is not counting on a more liberal response from the Episcopal Church South than the present indications warrant? The address of the Bishop of South Carolina is certainly far from reciprocal, or even sympathetic with the feeling of the Convention in your city, while the continued absence of representatives from the bulk of the States shows too unmistakably for a moment's doubt that the desire for a re-united Church comes all from one side.

The Democratic nominations for Congress in Louisiana are of the right stamp, and may be regarded as equivalent not only to an election, but also to an admission into the next Congress and a support of President Johnson.
